Seeing among the testimonials of the Ætna one signed by my old friend, L. A. Murch, who fought Indians with me under my command over thirty years ago, I was induced to try a case of Ætna Mineral Water. I was four years ago taken down with paralysis, losing the use of my right side, and I suffered in consequence from dyspepsia, neuralgia, kidney disease, loss of eye-sis ht, hearing and speech. I commenced writing a letter in German, of which the following is a translation:

"Déar parents, brother and sister: I have been caved on at hite's Cove, and my whole breast is crushed. It is now ten days since I got hurt, and I can hardly draw my breath."

Here his sufferings were so intense that he left the letter unfinished. It is surmised that his fatal purpose was deliberated at that time.

This morning early he complained of a terrible burning pain below the heart, and while trying to open the blade of a large pocket-knife was asked what he intended to do. He replied that he was going to "let some of that bad blood out." The knife was taken from him. The weapon he used afterward was taken from his valise and was a hunting knile, about six inches in the blade, of his own manufacture. His attendant had stepped out to get a cup of water and was gone only ten minutes, and returning found him sit-ting in an arm-chair dead. An examination showed five wounds, one in the right breast, two under the le't nipple, and two a couple of inches lower. A pool of black blood was on the floor, and the knife lying beside it. The victim has been all the same and the sam beside it. The victim showed no sign of a struggle. Deceased was a native of Bavaria, about 25 years of age, and bore an excellent character. Dear Sirs—I am most happy to render the following statement: I had been afflicted with dyspersia, and for a long time suffered its agonies, and had also much trouble from insomnia and dryness of the throat, the result of dyspepsia. By chance I harpened to drink a bottle of Æina Water and found it relieved me from the dryness of the throat. I continued its use and my dyspepsia left me, and I can now sleep as well as I ever did. I have recommended it to many of my acquaintances similarly afflicted, and they have experienced the same grateful results.

tion in San Francisco by French law cut case of Martin Koszta we find some rehis right to American protection is concerned.

In August, 1853, Mr. Hulsemann, Austrian Charge d'Affaires at Washington, complained in behalf of Austria to Secretary of State Wm. L. Marcy that Austria had arrested at Smyrna in June, 1853, and conveyed on the brig of war Huszar Martin Koszta, a Hungarian refugee, who had pledged himself not to set foot on Ottoman territory but broke the pledge. That United States Consul Offley and Commander to protection by a claim of American citizenship, and they exhibited a document showing that in July, 1852, Koszta had declared his intention to become an Ameri-

Hulsemann made the point that Commander Ingraham had committed "an act of war in time of peace in a neutral port."

To this Mr. Secretary of State Marcy replied, in September, 1853, that the American Government held Koszta to be entitled to its protection. A refugee after the close of the Kossuth revolutionary movement, he had fled to America, being released by Turkey, where he had first taken shelter, with the understanding by Austria that if released he should leave for foreign parts.

Arrived in America in 1850, he declared his intention to become an American citizen, and lived in New York nearly two years. He returned on private business to Smyrna, where he obtained the protection of the American Charge d'Affaires. While waiting for an opportunity to return to America, and having committed no political or other offense, he was seized by a band of lawless men-Greek hirelings and

He held that having foresworn allegiance to Austria and taken the initial step to become an American citizen, and being beyond the jurisdiction of Austria, Koszta could not be taken by that power. Mr. Marcy claimed that the law of nations justified this position, and called attention to the fact that when, in 1849-50, Koszta and others fled to Turkey, Russia and Austria demanded the surrender of the refugees, and though the two powers had the strength to wipe the Turkish Empire from the map of Europe, they submitted to the Sultan's brave refusal.

He also pointed out that Austria had exiled Koszta, and so deprived him of law, too (decree of March, 1832), subjects leaving without consent became "unlawneutral port, Mr. Marey declared that he can sailors were on a level as regarded that was the third and resultant act of orce, and, says Mr. Marcy, was justified. On the Government thus showing its teeth, Koszta was released and returned to the United States, where Commander Ingraham became the hero of the hour and was showered with attentions by his fellow citizens and honored by fetes, banquets and public meetings. GENERAL NOTICES.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the state cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It scothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, resleves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the rest known remedy for diarrhose, whether arising from teething or other causes. Liver Complaint
Is more surely and speedily cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, than by any other remedy. ** I was a great sufferer from liver troubles, and never found anything that gave me permanent relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, about two years ago. A few bottles of this medicine produced a radical cure. - Wm. E. Baker, 155 W. Brookline st., Boston, Mass.

A Remarkable Cure. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me of 2st bad a case of Abscess of the Liver as any human being could be afflicted with and live. I was confined to the house for two live. I was confined to the house for two years, and, for the last three months of that time, was unable to leave my bed. Four physicians treated me without giving relief, and, in fact, nothing helped me, until I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using a quarter of a bottle of this medicine I began to feel better, and every additional dose seemed to bring new health and strength. I used three bottles, and am now able to attend to my business. I walk to town—one mile distant—and I walk to town—one mile distant—and return, without difficulty. The State Fair vs. the Mechanics'.

[Breeder and Sportsman.] We were much pleased to learn that the California State Agricultural Society gave up dailying with the Mechanics' Fair, and pays no attention to the exacting demands of the San Francisco institution. The reiterated statements that a compromise was desired did not mislead, as it is well known that some of the prominent men in the Mechanics' have expressed an intention to cripple the State Fair so that theirs would take the lead. They even went so far as to propose holding a stock show during the weeks of the State Fair, and make every endeavor to secure entries. Had that threat been carried out, the result would have been disastrous to the Mechanics' Fair, as, do what they could, there are few stock-breeders who would fall into a trap French Chamber of Deputies appointed to the bait of which might be labeled a plan study the question of the separation of terests of California.

The State Fair is a public institution, organized and supported for the good of all. The other is a money-making scheme whereby a few men can profit. The best evidence of that was the rescinding of a resolution forbidding the leasing of the Pavilion for slogging matches and masque-rades. A society which will pander to the baser passions, which will indorse bruality and coquet with vice, cares little for the welfare of the farmers of the State. Could it induce them by specious promises to join in its raree show and turn the crank which grinds out extra dollars, little heed would be given to a sacrifice of important which did not conflict with the Agricultural Society would be better for urban interests. Were the Mechanics' Fair not opened until the close of the Sacramento exhibition, we cannot see any great draw-

As it now stands the farmer who neglects to add to the profuctions of his county at the State Fair, and fritters away his offerings at the other, will stand in his own light. He cannot ifford to stay away from one; he has still less justification in helping to sustain the Had the scheme brough of having a stock show and race the same time as the State Fair, not a department would show anything but a beggarly number, not a race that would have filled. We trust that farmers and ruit-growers will feel the same interest in theckmating the M. F. as breeders and owners. Arrogance must be met with other weapons than conciliation, and arbi-trary despotism lead to something else than beyond question. [Since the above was published the Di-

The State School Books. audaciously set up than by the book-ring in its denunciation of the State's initial effort to protect its children from robbery. The ring does not hesitate to pronounce the whole scheme a job to secure places for political favorites. It is lamentably true that a few pressmen and bookbinders are to be employed in the future—editors, engravers and compositors have finished their part of work—but there is some consolation in the thought that the money is kept within the State. While the wages paid may not be the absolute minimum of the market, it is better that the excess should go to workmen than that a similar but greater sum should be expended in oribing unsalaried School Directors. In estimating the forces that are arrayed in support of the effort to discredit the State books, we must remember that California is only one-fiftieth of the American school book-market, and the ring is fighting not so much to retain the trade of this State—though that is not to be despised—as to prevent the spread of our methods into other States. We shall not have a fair test of the system until other editions of the books are issued. In the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition we have minied the cost of a first edition. though that is not to be despised—as to prevent the spread of our methods into other States. The most vigorous constitution and the strongest physique are not proof against a disease, the germs of which impregnate the air we breathe and the water we drink. The true preparative, the surest defense, is to fortify the system with a medicine which possesses specific virtues as a safeguard and remedy. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely this article—proved by conclusive tests to be so. Not only on this continent, wherever miasma gives birth to the malarisl infection, but in the tropics, where fever and ague assumes its most malignant types, this incomparable, popular and deserving medicine has, for over a third of a century, shown its efficacy. Chills and tever, dumb ague, bilious remittent alike yield to its influence and are prevented by it. The word "fail" has no place in the lexicon of possibilities when this peerless article is cused. It tones the stomach arouses the liver when sluggish, and promotes healthful activity of the kidneys and bladder.
